Policy Manual

Jackson Theological Seminary

POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

This document is given to provide student, staff, faculty, administration, and board members with the guidance necessary to ensure that the Seminary is operated with the upmost proficiency and professionalism. Policies and procedures are an essential part of any organization. Together, policies and procedures, provide a roadmap for day to-day operations. They ensure compliance with laws and regulations, give guidance for decision-making, and streamline internal processes.

THE NEED FOR POLICIES AND PROCEDURES:

However, policies and procedures will not do Jackson any good if no one follows them. Students, staff alike don't always like the idea of having to follow rules. But policy implementation is not just a matter of arbitrarily forcing us to do things we don't want to do. Following policies and procedures is good for everyone and the seminary. After all, policies and procedures keep operations from devolving into complete chaos. When everyone is following policies and procedures, Jackson can run smoothly. This document helps ensure that our structures and teams operate as they are meant to; And mistakes and hiccups in processes can be quickly identified and addressed.

THE RESULTS OF FOLLOWING POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

When your staff is following policies and procedures, your organization will use time and resources more efficiently. You will be able to grow and achieve your goals as an organization. Our policies provide avenues of consistency in practices is also right for each person individually. We know what each of us are responsible for, what is expected and what can expect.

When Jackson follow procedures, Jackson perform tasks correctly and provide consistent, safe and efficient service. This enhances the quality of Jackson's services. And, in turn, improves Jackson Theological Seminary's reputation. Everyone can know they are fulfilling their roles and take pride in their work.

PUBLISHING POLICY AND PROCEDURES

Unfortunately, this policy manual may end up stuffed in a drawer or on a shelf gathering dust. Therefore, this document, which is necessary will also be made available online for expediency This ensures everyone can follow policies and

The Board of Trustees, President, administrators, staff, and faculty of Jackson Theological seminary will operate with integrity, representing itself accurately and honestly to students, and the public. Furthermore, the institution will maintain honest and open communication with all accreditation, federal and states agencies and will abide by the policies and procedures set forth by each entity

HISTORICAL SKETCH

Jackson Theological Seminary (JTS) had its beginning with Shorter College in 1886 and shared many of Shorter's physical facilities and programs. The Seminary is named for the late Dr. Thomas Henry Jackson who served as President 1895-1900 and Dean of the Theological Department 1904 – 1912. Dr. Jackson is a graduate of Wilberforce University. He entered Wilberforce at the age of 14, graduating with the first class, in 1870. In 1865, he was converted and entered the active ministry of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, thus serving 56 years.

Jackson Theological Seminary is owned and operated by the African Methodist Episcopal Church. The Seminary is a valid Servant of the Church. Since the first graduate, Reverend John March Murchison in 1903, the Seminary has been an effective guide to those aspiring to be useful and great. Jackson Theological Seminary (JTS) played a major role in providing theological and religious education to clergy and lay students in the 12th Episcopal District. In order to more adequately serve its basic purpose of educating and training Christian Ministers and Lay Leaders; several Extension Centers were authorized in Arkansas and Oklahoma. At least 30 hours earned in the Extension Centers could be applied toward the 90-hour course providing other academic requirements were met.

JTS offers a Master of Divinity and Bachelor of Biblical Studies (BA Degree Completion). While the school was not accredited by an accrediting body recognized by the U.S. Department of Education, the administration and faculty modeled the seminary after those that were accredited in the African Methodist Episcopal Church. The leadership of JTS was recognized alternately as either the President or Dean of the seminary.

Some of the individuals who served as Deans during the period of 1960 to 2011 were:

- The Reverend J.M. Watkins
- The Reverend Rufus King Young, Sr.
- The Reverend Nathaniel Irving
- The Reverend Dr. Colin Lambert
- The Reverend James R. Hooper
- The Reverend Clarence H. Guy
- The Reverend Clarence V. Boyd, Sr.

Jackson Theological Seminary held classes and taught courses in theology, Christian education, pastoral leadership, and preaching continuously from 1960 to 2010. In the spring of 2009, JTS entered into an off campus distance learning partnership with Florida Center for Theological Studies. The Florida Center for Theological Studies was an accredited seminary and using teleconferencing technology Jackson was able to offer students the opportunity to take graduate-level courses from an accredited school. The partnership lasted four semesters and ended when Florida Center for Theological Studies merged with another school that discontinued the distance learning program. Jackson discontinued holding classes after the 2011 school year because of a need to focus more attention on Shorter College.

Any objective evaluation of its current status should include the primary concern of the original intent and historical mission.

The African Methodist Episcopal Church decided to establish, maintain, and develop an institution for the Theological Education of both Ministers and Laymen. The African Methodist Episcopal Church takes pride in the fact that it produces most of her leaders. JTS is a positive expression of the vision and determination to sustain this heritage in a relevant and responsible manner.

Seeing the need to provide theological education to Clergy and Layperson, the 12th Episcopal District of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, decided to reopen Jackson Theological Seminary and pursue accreditation with TRACS (Transnational Association of Christian Colleges and Schools), offering a Bachelor of Arts Degree in Biblical Studies (a degree completion program) and a Master of Divinity Degree. In June 2018, under the leadership of the Chair of the Board of Trustees, Bishop Michael Leon Mitchell and Rev. Cecil Williams, Jr., President of Jackson Theological Seminary, the Seminary opened its doors to a brand-new facility for the continued purpose of educating and preparing clergy and lay for ministry from a theological perspective.

BIBLICAL FOUNDATION (FAITH STATEMENT)

Jackson Theological Seminary as a part of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, believes and affirm that the Bible is the Word of God and that the "Holy Scriptures" contains all things necessary to salvation. The Bible is primary, authoritative, and informative in all matters of faith and practice. There is nothing like the written Word of God for showing the way to salvation through faith in Christ Jesus. Every part of Scripture is God breathed, showing us truth, exposing our rebellion, correcting our mistakes, and training us to live the way God intended. In the name of the Holy Scriptures, we do understand those canonical books of the Old and New Testament, of whose authority was never any doubt in the Church. We do believe and affirm the Apostle's Creed.

"I believe in God the Father Almighty, Maker of heaven and earth, and in Jesus Christ his only son our Lord who was conceived by the Holy Spirit, born of the Virgin Mary, suffered under Pontius Pilate, was crucified, dead; and buried. The third day he arose from the dead' he ascended into heaven and sitteth at the right hand of God the Father Almighty; from thence he shall come to judge the quick and the dead. I believe in the Holy Spirit, the Church Universal, the communion of saints, the forgiveness of sins, the resurrection of the body and the life everlasting. Amen."

PHILOSOPHY OF EDUCATION

The seminary students and faculty seek to experience and examine theological training and thought formation centered on the exquisite grace of God, the example of Jesus Christ, and the excellent power of the Holy Spirit. Our philosophy of education emphasizes teaching and learning as an expression of social justice and liberation theology, tempered with service to community, and faith inspired by biblical, scriptural authority and historical Christian beliefs.

STATEMENT OF ETHICAL VALUES

The ethical values and standards of Jackson Theological Seminary seek to exemplify the liberating ministry, the services of sacrifice, and the standards of justice and love of Jesus Christ in ministerial and pastoral Christian service. The seminary is committed to representing the moral, ethical traditions and standards espoused by the Holy Bible (Old and New Testaments) and the African Methodist Episcopal Church.

Enrollment in Jackson Theological Seminary constitutes a recognition and reverence for these ethical values and standards by all students.

CORE VALUES

Biblical/Scriptural Authority: The extent to which the commandments and doctrines within the Old and New Testament scriptures are authoritative for human belief, conduct and destiny.

Historical Faith: Historical belief, trust, and loyalty of Christian Faith as described in the Old and New Testaments and through the Trinity - God the Father, Jesus Christ and the Holy Spirit.

Academic Rigor: Teach conceptual understanding, procedural skill, fluency, and application.

Social Justice: Teach concepts of fair and just relations between the individual and society. This is measured by the explicit and tacit terms for the distribution of wealth, opportunities for personal activity, and social privileges. Micah 6:8..... what does the LORD require of you but to do justice, and to love kindness, and to walk humbly with your God?

Liberation: The process to fight the ills of sin and exploitation through the relationship between Christian theology and political activism, economic justice, poverty, and human rights.

Service Orientation: The call to serve community, however, especially the least, the weak, poor and the needy. Mark 10:43but whoever wishes to become great among you must be your servant,⁴⁴ and whoever wishes to be first among you must be slave of all. ⁴⁵ For the Son of Man came not to be served but to serve, and to give his life a ransom for many."

ACCREDITATION

Accreditation offers institutions the opportunity to continue an ongoing formal and publicly recognized professional relationship with Transnational Association of Christian Schools (TRACS) as a member institution. Accredited institutions have achieved this level of recognition through continuous self-study. They have provided evidence that they are accomplishing their mission and are providing quality educational programs. Institutions that choose to hold accreditation with TRACS and have already achieved Candidate or Accredited Status with an accrediting agency recognized by the U.S. Department of Education, must demonstrate compliance with all Standards outlined in the TRACS Accreditation Manual. It is understood that the Self-Study data compiled for any other U.S. Department of Education recognized accrediting agency may be used without unnecessary duplication of effort; however, the data must be presented using TRACS format. A staff and team visit are required to verify the contents of the documents submitted. Jackson Theological Seminary is currently an applicant with TRACS that is seeking Candidacy status.

STANDARDS OF ACCREDITATION

Institutions that have submitted an application for membership with the Transnational Association of Christian Colleges and Schools (TRACS) are considered affiliates, but not members, of TRACS. An approved Applicant is an institution whose application has been approved by the Application Review Committee. In order for an Applicant institution to obtain Candidate status with TRACS, the institution is required to demonstrate compliance with the established

Institutional Eligibility Requirements (IERs). IERs are noted as specific Standards within each Accreditation Requirement and specified Federal Requirements. IERs are noted in bold print. Candidate institutions must demonstrate compliance with all of the Accreditation Requirements and with all applicable Federal Requirements within five years of being granted Candidate status. (See the TRACS definition of Institutional Eligibility Requirements.) Accredited institutions are required to maintain and demonstrate compliance with all the Accreditation Requirements and with all applicable Federal Requirements. Accredited institutions found to be in non-compliance with Accreditation Requirements or applicable Federal Requirements must bring such areas of deficiency into compliance within the timeframe prescribed by the TRACS Accreditation Commission. Specific information regarding the processes involved in the various stages of TRACS accreditation can be found in the TRACS publication, “Steps Toward Accreditation”. The Accreditation Requirements are divided into sixteen categories:

Students have the right to due process before formal disciplinary sanctions are imposed by the Seminary for violations of the Student Rules of Conduct. Students have the right to written notification and the opportunity for a hearing before any change in status is incurred for disciplinary reasons, unless a significant threat to persons or property exists. If a student has a disagreement with a faculty member, another student, staff member, or a member of the administration, he/she will follow the following process:

Step 1

Complete the first section of the Complaint/Grievance Form(see Agenda)and try to resolve the issue with the individual. Step 2

The second section of the form must be completed and sent to the Chief Academic Officer. The CAO will meet with the aggrieved parties and attempt to resolve the issue. If the issue is resolved here, both parties and the CAO will sign and date the form and state the resolution. The process stops here. If the issue is not resolved here, the parties will sign and date that the issue is not resolved, and the reason it was not resolved.

Step 3

The third section of the form will be completed by the aggrieved party:

A PETITION TO THE GRIEVANCE COMMITTEE

A copy of the letter will be attached to the previous papers and placed in the Grievance File. If a student has an issue with a member of the Grievance Committee, that person should remove himself/herself from the committee for the hearing and be replaced by another person from his/ her area. A scoring rubric is a method to communicate expectations of quality around a task. In many cases, scoring rubrics are used to delineate consistent criteria for grading. A scoring rubric allows teachers and students alike to evaluate criteria, which can be complex and subjective.

INCOMPLETE WORK:

In exceptional cases, such as illness or family emergency, a student may request an incomplete grade from an instructor no later than the last day of class. Thereafter, an incomplete must be requested from the Academic Dean. If approved, the instructor and Dean provide written acknowledgement and guidelines on an Incomplete Form and the form is sent to the Director of Administration and Records (DAR) to be entered in the official grading. Course work for an approved incomplete must be completed and submitted no later than 21 days after the last day of the session for the BABS/M.Div. and special students. Students who fail to submit required course work by the deadline will receive the earned grade for the course. The instructor is required to submit the grade change upon receiving and grading the completed work from the student, and no later than 10-days after receipt of said work. An Incomplete is not considered as completed credit hours which may affect the students financial aid status (when applicable). Students with at least one incomplete that are one semester old are placed on Registration Hold until the incomplete is resolved. Students on Registration Hold will have limited access in the student information system (SIS), including the inability to register for upcoming courses.

For intensive courses, such as those offered during the summer term, requests for an incomplete must be made directly to the instructor by the due date of the last class session for the course.

If the student does not return within that agreed upon time frame, the offer will be forfeited, and the funds will not be made available for courses in the future.

EMPLOYEE ACADEMIC ADVISING PROCEDURES

The CAO will serve as the primary Academic Advisor and due to the Seminary's size will authorize other instructors to advise students as well. The CAO or his or her designee, will ensure that all instructors provide an adequate amount of time to meet with the students on an as-need basis. The staff will provide enough time for students already enrolled in classes to receive adequate counsel for their stated academic goals while meeting school standards. Students may request for advisement from their instructors who will notify the CAO. The CAO will set up and appointment for advisement with the student.

PERFORMANCE APPRAISAL

Performance appraisals are used to document job performance, and successful completion of probationary periods (periodic performance appraisals). It should be noted that a performance evaluation does not necessarily mean a salary adjustment. It is important that an employee be recognized for good performance and that the member receives appropriate suggestions for improvement when necessary. Consistent with this goal, the member's performance, conduct and attendance will be observed, documented and evaluated by the supervisor on an ongoing basis. The member may also receive periodic written evaluations.

Annual performance appraisals shall be conducted on all full-time Faculty/Staff member members who have been employed as a full-time employee for three (3) months as of October each year.

If a member is transferred to a new position, he/she will receive a periodic evaluation after the member has been in the new job for three months, but this may also occur more frequently if the supervisor or department head feels it is necessary. The releasing supervisor will provide a complete performance appraisal. This appraisal will be averaged with the new position if the employee meets requirements for an annual appraisal. All written performance reviews will be based on the employee's overall performance in relation to the job responsibilities and will also consider conduct, demeanor, and record of attendance and punctuality.

When a supervisor is aware of a problem concerning a subordinate member's job performance, conduct, attendance or other problems, it is the supervisor's responsibility to privately counsel the employee regarding the problem(s), advising the employee of the standards that must be met, setting time limits in which to meet them if necessary, and the consequences for not meeting them. Any members who refuse to, or otherwise does not, perform the duties of his or her assigned position, in a manner acceptable to the seminary is subject to disciplinary action, including termination. This applies to faculty/staff's conduct and attendance as well.

When a supervisor completes any type of an evaluation on an employee, the employee is asked to sign the form. The purpose for this is to assure the Chairman of the Board that the employee has been counseled, has been informed of the contents of the evaluation and that the employee has received a copy. The signature of the employee is in no way an indication of approval or disapproval of the contents of the evaluation.

Periodically the Chairman of the Board will undertake specific, targeted instruction in such matters regarding equal employment. All training should be documented, and the original forwarded to DAR's office. All Faculty/Staff member should avail themselves to outside training opportunities. Job related training opportunities can be supplemented by the Seminary if they are job related and approved by the Board.

BOARD SELF-EVALUATION

In an effort to understand the attitudes and perceptions about the Seminary and determine initiatives for improving leadership performance and effectiveness, the Board of Trustees are invited to annually complete a Board Self-Evaluation Assessment. The Board evaluate itself by assessing the following areas:

- Leadership. This evaluates the effectiveness of Board leadership, including the Officers and Members. It examines how the leaders were chosen, the skills and experiences the individual brings to bear, their leadership style, and their areas of knowledge and expertise.
- Effectiveness and Involvement. This evaluates how the board meetings are conducted. They should note whether the meetings are organized for maximum productivity and the effective exchange of ideas. This includes which Trustees participate and how decisions are made and whether the Trustees encourage the full participation of all members.
- Professionalism. This evaluates how board members interact, including who participates and how decisions are made. It is important to note the manner in which the Trustees contribute. In particular, the evaluation process should review the behaviors that Trustees adopt in interacting with others. Encouraged are positive behaviors, which include asking the right questions, building on others' points of view, framing content in a constructive fashion, and staying engaged.

ACADEMIC FREEDOM

Jackson Theological Seminary affirms that this institution of higher education is conducted for the common good and not to further the interests of either the individual faculty member or the institution as a whole. The common good depends upon the free search for truth and its exposition.

Academic freedom is essential to these purposes and applies to all disciplines. Freedom in research is fundamental to the advancement of truth. Academic freedom in all disciplines is fundamental for the protection of the rights of the faculty and the student. It carries with it duties correlative with rights, regardless of employment status.

Among the exclusive rights granted to “authors” are the rights to reproduce, distribute, publicly perform and publicly display their works. These works may include books, magazines, journals, newsletters, maps, charts, photographs, other printed materials, and non- printed materials.

These rights provide copyright holders control over the use of their creations and an ability to benefit monetarily and otherwise, from the use of their works. Non-copyright holders, as determined by the law, must generally obtain copyright permission prior to using or reproducing that work. Exceptions in the Copyright Act are for certain academic uses; for example, permission is not required for actions such as reading or borrowing original literary works or photographs from a library collection. See Fair Use Provision (Copyright Act, Section 107).

FAIR USE PROVISION

Under the Fair Use Provision, a reproduction of someone else’s copyright-protected work is likely to be considered fair if it is used for one of the following purposes: criticism, comment, news reporting, teaching, scholarship and research. If the reproduction is for one of these purposes, a determination as to whether the reproduction is fair use must be made based upon these four factors:

1. Purpose and character of the use
2. Nature of the copyright – protected work
3. Amount and substantiality of work used
4. Effect of the use on the market or potential market value of the work.
5. To minimize the risk of copyright infringement, Jackson interprets the following as fair use of copyrighted works:
6. Quotation of short passages in a scholarly or technical work for illustration or clarification of the author’s observations.
7. Spontaneous one-time use of reproduction of material for classroom use.
8. Use in parody of short portions of the work itself.
9. A summary of an address or article, which may include quotations of short passages.

If the use does not meet the above criteria and the work is protected by copyright, permission from the copyright holder or agent needs to be obtained.

Classroom Handouts fall into two categories; one that requires permission and one that does not. If the handout is spontaneous and a new work that permission could not be obtained in a timely manner, the work may be used without obtaining permission. The handout is planned in advance, repeated from semester to semester, or involves works that have existed long enough to obtain permission in advance; the work cannot be used without permission.

Copies of a publication that the Library owns may be placed on reserve in the library without obtaining copyright permission. However, the library cannot reproduce additional copies and place them on reserve for students to review, in either paper or electronic format, without obtaining copyright permission.

Photocopying by students is subject to a fair use analysis as well. Photocopying all the assignments from a book recommended for purchase by the professor, making multiple copies of articles or book chapters for distribution to classmates, or copying material from consumable workbooks, all require copyright permission.

INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY:

Intellectual property is a broad term that includes, but is not limited to, inventions, discoveries, copyrightable material, works, patents, trademarks and trade secrets.

"Works" as used herein are original works of authorship that have been fixed in a tangible medium of expression, including but not limited to, master syllabi, books, articles, artwork, music, software, traditional or electronic correspondence, and online instructional materials that are likely to be subject to protection under United States copyright law.

PHOTOCOPYING IN JACKSON LIBRARY

Photocopying in the Jackson Library is permissible without obtaining permission from the copyright owner, under the following circumstances:

1. Library user requests one copy of an article from a periodical or short excerpt of any other work.
2. The reproduction must become the property of the library user.
3. The library staff must have no reason to believe that the reproduction will be used for purposes other than private study, scholarship and research.
4. The library must display: The Copyright law of the United States (Title 17, United States Code) governs the making of photocopies or other reproduction of copyright material. Under certain conditions specified in the law, libraries and archives are authorized to furnish a photocopy or other reproduction.
5. One of these specified conditions is that the photocopy or reproduction is not "used for any purposes other than private study, scholarship, or research." If a user makes a request for, or later uses, a photocopy or reproduction for purposes in excess of “fair use,” that user may be liable for copyright infringement.

6. Up to three reproductions of any unpublished work owned by the library may be made for preservation, security or for deposit for research use in another library or archives, including digital reproductions, of a published work that is lost, stolen, damaged, deteriorating or stored in an obsolete format.
